

"Chunky Minuscules"

October 30, 2021

Amity Parks

four-hour online workshop

10:00 - 12:00 and 1:00 - 3:00 (Eastern Time)

When Amity was with us in 2019 presenting her Chunky Caps in the "Bold and Blended" workshop, we were intrigued to learn she had an accompanying miniscule alphabet. We are finally able to schedule her for a return engagement to learn those minuscules.

In Amity's words: "This class will be spent learning a broad-edged pen version of a chunky lower-case alphabet. This hand was designed with many of the details and characteristics of my Chunky Caps, and I recommend you take that class first, as much of what we learned there will apply to the quick intro of the minuscules. The boldness of this lettering style creates lovely textures and white spaces. I'll also talk briefly about how I use Bister Inks for this lettering style."

"The class is easier if you've had the Caps, but if some want to join that haven't taken them, that's fine. I'll review the caps as we go through the lowercase also. I'll talk a little about and use Bisters, but students can just use walnut ink if they don't have Bisters."

Unlike our previous online workshops, for this one, you will log onto Zoom with only one device. However, Amity wants each person to have a second device (phone or tablet with a camera) at your work site allowing us to share photos of our work with the group using Padlet (details regarding app to come).

Cost for this one-day workshop will be $85 for current Pen Dragons members and $105 for non-members, which includes instruction and handouts, printed and mailed to you. The price also includes a link to the recording of the demos which is viewable for 30 days after the class, along with pictures of the demo pages that Amity creates during the class.

Space is limited. Registration is now open for MEMBERS ONLY through September 14 and after that date will open to non-members if space is available. Registration closes October 1, 2021, or earlier if workshop is filled.
